THE WOMEN ARE RECOGNIZED.

For the First Time in the History of the Church Sex Makes No Distinction as to the Privileges of the Floor of the General Assembly—Doings at Portland, Oregon.

PITTSBURG, June 1.—Immediately after the opening prayer of the United Presbyterian general assembly yesterday a memorial from the Woman's Suffrage association was read and referred to the committee on reform. The consideration of the report of the committee on changes in the home mission system was continued. The report introduces several new clauses and amends others.

After devotional service the report of the special committee on reports of committees of woman's foreign missionary board and a committee of the assembly, to determine the relation of the woman's board to the other general boards, and the assembly was read. It recommended that the woman's board be auxiliary to the other boards.

Mrs. Campbell addressed the assembly on the subject, and took occasion to define the work done by the woman's board, and asked the assembly to define this board's position, and what the word auxiliary means. Her address was applauded.

There was a long discussion. The assembly seemed in doubt as to the exact meaning of the word "auxiliary," in the sense used, and it is probable that the assembly was loth to place women on equal footing, therefore the debate was really as to how to best state off the matter and at the same time give no offense to the women.

The report was adopted, as was also Dr. Owens' resolution that a report of the woman's board may have the privilege of the floor on the same basis as the secretaries of other boards.

The general assembly never before gave the woman's board direct voice on the floor. The women are jubilant over the victory.

The consideration of the assembly's committee on changes in the home mission system was again taken up, finished and adopted.

The report of the committee on statistics was next taken from the docket and approved.

In the afternoon the assembly's committee on reforms reported on the report of the standing committee on reforms.

Rev. McCrory reported for the committee on special reforms.

Several addresses were made with reference to the closing of the world's exposition on the Sabbath and against Sunday newspapers.

A resolution was adopted that the assembly was opposed to appropriations for denominational schools; opposed to the opening of the world's fair on Sunday, and to liquor selling on the grounds.

Under any other conditions the United Presbyterian church did not dare to co-operate in the enterprise.

"The opening of the Columbian exposition on the Sabbath day would expose the nation to the righteous judgment of God." "Unless the gates were closed and no liquor was sold, there would be no United Presbyterian church exhibit," were sentiments freely expressed by the members.

Presbyterians at Portland, Oregon.

PORTLAND, June 1.—The Presbyterian assembly adopted the report of its committee, already public, with respect to its authority over the theological seminaries and settled the matter by an overwhelming majority. The assembly re-affirmed the interpretation of the compact of 1870, announced by the general assembly of 1891; refused to be a party to an abrogation of the compact; decided on a committee of fifteen to formulate an agreement with the thirteen seminaries of the denomination and voted to arbitrate with the Union seminary directors the transfer of Professor Briggs' from one professorship to another.

The last two assemblies have been troubled over the question of deaconesses, and it cropped out again this year in the report of the standing committee on deacons, which recommended sending down the question to the presbyteries for action. The recommendation was agreed to.

The report of the temperance committee, after reciting that a majority of the churches made use of unfettered wine in the sacrament, went on to hail the event with approval. The proposition to declare all political parties not committed to prohibition unfit for Christians to affiliate with was objected to by many, but was maintained nevertheless by a majority of only 10 out of nearly 500 votes.

The assembly will meet next year in Washington city.

Colored Woman Horribly Mangled.
INDIANAPOLIS, June 1.—Harriet Lacy, a colored woman, was driving over the Big Four tracks yesterday afternoon when a train backed upon her, killing her instantly. She was horribly mangled, her body being ground under the wheels till it was a shapeless mass.

Actor Curtis Buys a Vineyard.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Actor M. B. Curtis who is out on bail pending his second trial for the murder of Policeman Grant, has sold his Peralto Hall property for $140,000. The property includes the large hotel used by Professor Sprague for a girl's seminary. It is reported that Curtis has purchased Fairview vineyard near Fresno. Its raisin vineyard covers 160 acres. The vine will bear this year and, it is thought, yield a large crop. Curtis, it is said, will live on his ranch.

ONE MORE REVOLUTION.

Garza Has Disappeared and Up Pops Jose Sandoval.

NOGALES, A. T., June 1.—The Daily Advertiser contains an editorial saying that hardly a day passes that reports are not made of encountering in out of the way places along the border armed Mexicans, nearly all of them leading or driving horses, while the robbery of these animals are of daily occurrence. The robberies are not confined to the American side of the line. There are many reports from towns and ranches on the Sonora side of horses and mules being stolen.

Word came from Saric that several animals have been recently stolen from that district. At first it was thought that these depredations were committed solely by horse thieves who have tried their best to clean up the range horses in the Santa Cruz valley, but their operations now seem to be so widespread and of such magnitude that suspicion is aroused that there is more in it than can be seen on the surface. The editorial says:

"We believe it our duty to put the public, as well as the officials of the two friendly governments, on guard, and we particularly request that immediate information should be furnished of any camps or large bodies of armed men encountered. The mysterious disappearance of Garza and the public appearance of Jose Sandoval in our midst arouses grave suspicions that a small-sized revolution is being worked up."

LIVED EIGHTY YEARS.

Death of One of Boston's Well Known Business Men.

BOSTON, June 1.—George William Bond, senior partner in the wool brokerage firm of George William Bond & Company, of this city, died Monday, aged eighty years, eleven months. He was a remarkable expert in wools, and was twice employed by the United States government to prepare standard samples of wool for the use of custom house officers. His reports upon the classification of wools are recognized as the highest authority on the subject.

Harvard university conferred the honorary degree of A. M. upon him in 1874 in recognition of "his public spirit and his thorough knowledge of wool growing and wool manufacturing."

During the civil war Mr. Bond was a prominent worker for the soldiers in camp and hospital, and was appointed by Governor Andrew a special agent to care for them and their families. The deceased twice married and two sons and a daughter survive him.

DISASTROUS WRECK.

A Train Jumps the Track While Running at a Rapid Rate.

DEADWOOD, S. D., June 1.—A disastrous wreck occurred on the Deadwood Central railroad yesterday, two miles from this city, which resulted in the killing of James Scott and the fatal injury of William Thomas. At the time of the wreck, coaches were filled with passengers, most of whom escaped with minor wounds. The wreck was caused by frosty track, which caused the train to slide.

The train and its living freight slid down the grade to its destruction at the rate of seventy-five miles an hour. Many of the passengers jumped for their lives and received severe wounds by falling on the sharp rocks. At the last reverse curve on the road the train jumped the track and crashed into the rocks, a complete wreck. When search was made for the engineer, Tim Mahan, he was found pinned in the cab by the wreckage, with his hand on the throttle, insensible, but alive. He will recover.

MINE ACCIDENT.

Four Men Killed and Seven Injured By an Explosion.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 1.—The mine accident at Manackaquu yesterday, turns out to be more disastrous than at first reported. The victims now number four. Their names are John Protheroe, foreman; John Walters, Henry Ritter and Walter Dietrick, all miners and heads of families.

Seven men were taken to the hospital badly burned. The most seriously injured are H. M. Everhart, Fred Everhart and William Cooper.

The accident was due to a terrific explosion of gas, which did great damage to the mine. The dead were horribly mangled and shreds of flesh hung from the bodies of the injured. Just who is responsible for the disaster is not known. Foreman Protheroe could tell, but he is dead.

NOT BELIEVED.

The Story That Dr. Sheldon Jackson Was Massacred.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., June 1.—The dispatch from Victoria, British Columbia, announcing the murder of the Rev. Sheldon Jackson, commissioner of education for Alaska at Juneau, is thought to be without foundation. Dr. Jackson left here May 13 on the cutter Bear. He was to go first to Conalaska and thence to a northern mission. Even if the Bear did not put into Juneau she could hardly have reached there before the steamer Danube, which brought intelligence of the alleged crime, left that port. The probability is that the killing of Missionary Edwards about two months ago gave rise to the rumor. The department of justice has sent a special agent to investigate the killing of Edwards.

Two Metal Workers Burned.

PITTSBURG, June 1.—Andrew Ludwig and Peter Whalen, laborers at the Edgar Thomson steel works, were badly burned yesterday by gas and metal from the blow pipe of the furnace. They were working near the blow pipe and an explosion took place. Both men were badly burned about the arms and body. They were brought to this city, and taken to the Mercy hospital.

THE BALD KNOBBERS.

The Taney (Mo.) County Gang Either in Hiding or Have Left the Country.

KANSAS CITY, June 1.—The trial of a half score of the mob that killed Deputy Sheriff Williams, of Taney county, while he was endeavoring to protect his prisoner, Wife-murderer Bright, has begun at Forsythe. It is doubtful, however, that it will proceed, as the Bald Knobbers of the Ozarks have ordered all of the men of Taney county into hiding, so that juries and witnesses may not be secured. Every man in the country is either in hiding in the brush or has left the county to avoid arrest. Some of the men were in the mob, and are, of course, fugitives. Others who did not actually participate know some incriminating facts, and are in hiding to avoid being called as witnesses, knowing that if they should be forced to tell the truth their lives would be in danger.

Dr. C. Hart Meriam, naturalist of the department of agriculture, and Professor Holmes, archaeologist of the Smithsonian institution, visited Marble Cave, the wonder of the Ozarks, in Stone county, last week, to investigate the animal burial ground. They passed through part of Taney county. They secured a large collection of prehistoric stones, and were delighted with their trip. They were followed by spies from the time they left Springfield until they returned, and had they made a suspicious move their lives might have paid the penalty. The natives thought that they were detectives or officers, and kept close watch.

State troops will be ordered to Taney county to help enforce law and order.

Freight Trains Collide.

KENSINGTON, O., June 1.—At 6 o'clock yesterday morning two freight trains under full speed collided, head on, between Summitville and Millport, on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railway. Both engines and twelve freight cars were destroyed. John Liebtog, of Cleveland, engineer of the northbound freight, was crushed to death and his body afterwards burned in the wreck. Brakeman Frank Wilcox, of Wellsville, O., jumped on a pile of rubbish and sustained probably fatal injuries. The accident was caused by Engineer Liebtog neglecting to obey his orders to sidetrack his train at Summitville. The money loss will approximate $25,000.

Buried Under Tons of Earth.

ALLIANCE, O., June 1.—Yesterday while a large force of men were at work repairing the tunnel on the Lake Erie, Alliance and Southern railway, twelve miles south of here, which caved in over a week ago, another large section fell without warning, burying Section Foreman Chapman, Andrew Pariso and a laborer named Leslie, under many tons of earth. In twenty minutes Leslie was dug out. His leg was broken and he was suffering from severe internal injuries. Pariso and Chapman are further in the debris, and it will be some time before they can be gotten out.

Had but One Kidney.

WABASH, Ind., June 1.—George Ritter, of Warsaw, died of injuries received while in the employ of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway company. A post mortem was held over the remains and the astonishing fact developed that Ritter had but one kidney. It was first supposed by the physicians holding the autopsy that one of the kidneys had been destroyed by Addison's disease, but a careful examination proved that there had never been but one of these organs. It is claimed that the case is without parallel in pathological annals.

Archibald Stirling Dead.

BALTIMORE, June 1.—Ex-United States Attorney Archibald Stirling died of paralysis Tuesday evening. He was stricken at the breakfast table and did not again recover consciousness.

Mr. Stirling was over sixty years of age. He graduated from Princeton college in 1851. He was city councillor of Baltimore, was appointed United States district attorney for Maryland by President Grant in 1869, and continued in the office until Cleveland was made president, when he returned to general law practice.

Colored Kick.

SPRINGFIELD, O., June 1.—White and colored circles are considerably stirred up over a sensational incident of Monday afternoon in the big parade. Buck Creek council, Junior United Order of American Mechanics, was assigned to a place directly behind the colored Uniformed Odd Fellows. No sooner was this seen than a terrific kick went up. The mechanics claimed they had been insulted, and forthwith left the parade and returned to their hall.

Tunnel Caves In.

STUEBENVILLE, O., June 1.—At 8 o'clock last night the roof of tunnel No. 6, on the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railway, twelve miles west of this city, caved in. Since then no trains have passed through the tunnel. A large force is at work removing the debris. No one was injured by the cave-in. Through trains are running between Stuebenville and Pittsburg over the tracks of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railway.

Fortunate Escape.

SPRINGFIELD, O., June 1.—A two-horse team, hitched to a big wagon, ran into the funeral procession of Mrs. Gentis, on a deep fill approaching Mad river bridge, near Tremont City, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Chris Neff's buggy was demolished and Mrs. Neff fatally injured. Mrs. Dibert sustained injuries of a serious nature. By a hair's breadth fifteen people were saved from being dashed forty feet on the rocks below.

Destructive Rain.

NEVADA, Mo., June 1.—The heaviest rainfall in years visited here last night. The river and creeks are swollen out of their banks. Dick Van Osdel and Charles Scantling, who reside in Lake township, were struck by lightning

SENATE AND HOUSE.

Proceedings of Both Branches of Congress.

SILVER DEBATE IN THE SENATE.

Senator Sherman Heard From on the Question of Silver Coinage—A Speech of Two Days' Duration—But Little Accomplished in the House—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Mr. Sherman's great speech on silver yesterday was delivered in a most effective manner without notes, and was listened to by an attentive senate and by well-filled galleries. Many of the Democratic senators gathered around the speaker. Mr. Mills, of Texas, took a chair in the aisle, the better to listen, observing which, Mr. Sherman, who was beginning to touch upon the benefits which protection had jointly with honest money conferred on the country, suddenly stopped and laughingly remarked that, as he saw the senator from Texas preparing to follow him, he would leave the merits of protection to be discussed in some more appropriate bill.

Messrs. Morgan, Pugh, Teller and other silver advocates, as well as Mr. McPherson, of New Jersey, rained a constant succession of questions upon the speaker, which led Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, to interpose with a vigorous objection to the practice which he said had grown up of late years in the senate of converting every senator's speech into a colloquy. The questions, nevertheless, continued, and Mr. Sherman said the only result would be that he would occupy two days with a speech instead of one. He had concluded when the senate adjourned.

The house started out with good intentions to accomplish something with the postoffice appropriation bill, but struck a snag in the clause providing for free delivery. Mr. Caldwell, Republican, of Ohio, moved to increase the appropriation from $10,450,000 to $10,745,000, and when a vote was taken he made the point of no quorum. A call of the house ensued and a resolution was passed revoking leaves of absence except for sickness, and the house, on motion of McMillin, Democrat, of Tennessee, adjourned without accomplishing anything.

Bi-Metallic Conference.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—It is officially stated that acceptances have been received by the United States government from eight countries from Europe of the invitation to partake in the bi-metallic conference. The countries having accepted are understood to be England, Italy, Germany, France, Austria, the Netherlands, Spain and Portugal. The conference will probably be held in Brussels. The three members of the conference who will represent the United States are said to be Judge Lambert Tree, of Chicago; Henry W. Cannon, president of the Chase National bank of New York, and formerly comptroller of the currency, and Senator Jones, of Nevada.

Wants the Facts.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—In the senate Mr. Turpie, of Indiana, offered a resolution calling for the reciprocity correspondence with Hayti, Colombia and Venezuela, and gave notice that on Thursday next he should address the senate upon the resolution.

A BRUTAL HUSBAND'S CRIME.

After Killing His Wife He Cuts His Own Throat in Jail.

BELLAIRE, O., June 1.—A telegram just received states that Mrs. Hill, who was so terribly butchered with a hatchet at Clarington, O., May 14, by her divorced husband, Charles Hill, died yesterday. It was one of the most heinous crimes ever committed in this part of the state. The village people were up and ready to lynch the assassin, but the officers of the law hid him away and took him at night to the county jail at Woodfield for safety.

Hill decoyed his divorced wife from Wheeling to Clarington by a telegram stating that her child was dying, then assaulted her with a hatchet.

Yesterday after hearing of his wife's death in some manner Hill got possession of a knife and cut his throat from ear to ear. He was unconscious when found and died shortly afterwards.

Fatal Saloon Fight.

CELINA, O., June 1.—Matt Tigh, John Gibbons and Bill Miller were fighting in E. M. Jones' saloon. Daniel Benjamin, who interfered as peacemaker, was fatally cut with a beer glass from the bridge of the nose to about two inches below the eye. Benjamin's body was found in the barn of John Barr. He had taken off his coat and vest and lain down. He was a cook for Barr, and came from Cincinnati here. He has relatives in Zanesville, O., Phillips, Wis., and Albany. The men who did the killing escaped.

Still Another Cyclone.

INDEPENDENCE, Kan., June 1.—The two-story stone house of James Sullivan, four miles east of Independence, was destroyed by a cyclone at 8 o'clock last night. There were eight persons in the house at the time. Mrs. Lucy M. Lucile and a four-year-old child were taken from the ruins dead, having been crushed by the wreckage. The twister seems to have spent its entire fury at this point as all other damage was nominal.

Badly Stung by Bees.

ENGLISH, Ind., June 1.—A hive of bees, owned by Emory Denton, swarmed in his house, and in his attempt to expel them Mr. Denton was badly stung about the face and head. He is confined to his bed, and his condition is serious.

It looks like marriage is somewhat of a failure down at Chattanooga. The other day a certain Judge passed on 111 applications for divorce in 150 minutes. Decrees were granted in seven cases, eighty-two were dismissed and twelve were continued.

The export trade in manufactures of iron and steel for the last eight months was valued at $20,463,764, says an exchange. Comparing it with the corresponding eight months for the last six years, there has been a steady and regular advance. The exports now are about double what they were six years ago. The moral of this tale stands out on the face of it. Why should our manufacturers be crippled with taxes on their raw material, or cumbered by protective interference with foreign trade, when they are able to sell their wares in the world's markets more and more every year in despite of competition.

A Centenary Memorial.
 Professor Shaler, of Harvard, noting the early and rapid development of education in Mason County, says that it "became the best schooled county in the State" and sent forth "a remarkably large number of scholarly men." In the earliest decade of the century, the county was always at the front in matters of education. She maintained this supremacy down to the beginning of the civil war; carried her schools creditably through that troubled period; carefully nursed her resources during the period of reconstruction, and ever since has steadily kept the advance. She now takes another forward step and will move down the next century with a well endowed Public Library linked as a powerful auxiliary to the public schools. Through all the coming years it will remain a significant and impressive memorial of this centennial day. Finis coronat opus.

It Was Not True.
 Last Thursday the BULLETIN published an item based upon a special from Bethel, Ohio, to the Cincinnati Post, stating that W. W. Young, a prominent attorney of Georgetown, had been arrested on a charge of assisting Bus Simms and Albert Frazee, of Bethel, in trying to dispose of some old coins they had found in the residence of an old miser who had died at Bethel.

The BULLETIN is glad to state that there is no truth whatever in the report as far as Mr. Young and Mr. Frazee are concerned. In a letter to Dr. Pangburn, of this city, Mr. Young says: "I have not been to Bethel for four weeks; was not arrested there or at any other place; no charge was ever made against me that I know of, and none can be made so far as I know. Sims found some old coin. I advised him about it as his attorney. He was arrested. I was retained to defend him. The men who began the prosecution left the day before the trial. I sent Hon. W. J. Thompson to defend Sims, as I was engaged at the time in our court. Sims was released as there was no cause whatever for his arrest."

Mr. Young will prosecute the Post for criminal libel at once.

BANKING LAWS.

Principal Provisions of the Act Now Pending in the Legislature.

Judicial Districts—House Refuses to Concur in the Senate's Substitute—State Taxation.

The State Senate has adopted most of the article in the Corporation bill on banking. Its principal provisions are as follows:

No bank shall become incorporated with a capital stock of less than $25,000. In cities having 50,000 or more population the capital stock must not be less than $100,000. The articles of incorporation are to be signed by the persons thereto, and recorded in the County Clerk's office, and a copy filed in the office of the Secretary of State and the Commissioner of the banking department. Fifty per cent. of the capital stock must be paid in before the bank begins business, and the remaining 50 per cent. must be paid in within one year. A bank can not take as security for a loan a lien on its capital stock, nor become the purchaser of any part of its capital stock unless such purchase shall be necessary to prevent loss on a debt previously contracted. No one person shall own more than one-half of the capital stock of a bank.

A bank can not own or hold any real estate, except such as is necessary for the transaction of its business, for a longer period than five years; nor can any person become indebted to a bank in a sum exceeding 10 per cent. of its paid-up capital, unless a mortgage is executed or good collateral pledged to secure the excess, and in no event can a person become indebted to a bank in an amount exceeding 20 per cent. of the paid-up capital stock.

In cities of a population of more than 50,000 at least 25 per cent. of the deposits must always be kept on hand, and banks in smaller places must keep on hand at least 15 per cent. of the deposits.

Banks are required to publish at least four times a year statements of their business sworn to by the President, cashier and three directors. One-tenth of the net profits are to be carried to a surplus fund until the surplus amounts to one-twentieth of the capital stock.

Any officer of a bank who shall receive or assent to the receiving of deposits after he knows the bank to be insolvent shall be individually liable for the deposit and also guilty of a felony, and on conviction shall be punished by confinement in the penitentiary for not less than one nor more than ten years.

No person can engage in the business of private banking without a paid up capital of at least $10,000, and private banks are required to publish reports of their condition twice a year, and are responsible the same as incorporated banks for violations of the law.

Stockholders are made liable for the debts of a bank in an amount equal to the par value of their stock, in addition to the stock itself.

In the Senate yesterday the House bill to increase the rate of State taxation from 42½ to 47½ cents on the $100 was defeated by failing to receive a Constitutional majority. A motion to reconsider was entertained and it will be given another chance.

Mr. Jones' resolution to adopt ex-Speaker Reed's method of counting a quorum was laid on the table.

The chapter on "Personal Representatives" was passed by the Senate.

In the House Mr. Dawson's bill making Trustees of private schools ineligible to serve as Trustees of public schools was passed by a vote of 52 to 19.

Mr. McElroy's bill concerning "Elisors" was also passed. It provides that, in the absence of the Sheriff, an elisor may be appointed, who may transact any business transacted by the Sheriff, except to collect taxes.

All amendments to the Senate substitute for the Redistricting bill were voted down, and the House by a vote of 53 to 24, refused to concur, and the bill was reported to the Senate in that shape.

The Hart Coal Oil bill came up and the vote resulted: yeas 12; nays 35. No quorum having voted, the bill fell into the orders of the day.

Mr. Stevenson's bill authorizing School Trustees to levy a tax to build additions to public schools has passed.

The Senate bill to prevent the adulteration of baking powders was amended with an emergency clause. The bill passed and a motion to reconsider was tabled.

SERVED 'EM RIGHT.

A Cincinnati Drummer and an Intemperant Optician Drayed Out of Louisa.

"Hauled out of town on a dray in front of a scoffing crowd."

"That is the way two men went out of Louisa, Ky., Monday afternoon," says the Enquirer. "They were J. Will Harm, of Cincinnati, a well known traveling salesman for Gooch's Medicine Co., and Dr. N. B. Marcoffsky, from Louisville. The latter claims to be an optician. The two had been in Louisa several days, and had spent a good portion of their time sitting on street corners and making remarks intended to attract the attention of passing ladies.

"Their persistence in this conduct attracted the attention of some fathers and brothers who are among the best citizens of Louisa. The latter investigated and found a number of instances in which the offenders had insulted ladies.

"A meeting of business and professional citizens was at once called, and after hearing indisputable evidence of the guilt of the two they proceeded in a body to the apartments of the sportive pair and informed them quietly, but determinedly, that they must leave town at once. A train was due and Harm made haste to get his baggage to the depot where he was escorted by a portion of the committee. The remainder stayed with Marcoffsky, who claimed to have a team, and begged to be allowed to drive out. He was ordered to do so in haste. The news spread rapidly and soon a large crowd gathered.

"They became impatient and a dray with a colored driver was halted. Marcoffsky was placed on it and driven down Main street amid scoffs from all sides. He was then ferried across the river and planted on West Virginia soil, there to await his team which was afterwards sent over. He was also pelted with eggs. The train had not yet arrived and a dray was sent after Harm who was treated like Marcoffsky, except that he was deposited on a passing raft of timber. An impudent remark from Marcoffsky came near bringing him bodily harm, but cooler heads prevented it. Harm realized the seriousness of the affair and was badly frightened."

FIRE IN MOSCOW.

Sixty Houses Destroyed by the Flames.

SENSATIONAL RUMORS AFLOAT.

The Conflagration at First Thought to be Due to a Nihilistic Plot—Small Riot in Berlin—Various Other News from Different Places in the Old World.

Moscow, June 1.—A destructive fire broke out here yesterday and threatened for a time to sweep through the city. The fire department found it impossible to subdue the flames and save the property attacked, as most of the houses were old, and burned with great rapidity. It was decided to endeavor to confine the conflagration and hasten the destruction of the burning district. This was done, devoting themselves to preventing the flames from extending. When the fire had burned itself out, three streets, containing sixty houses, were in ruins.

During the height of the conflagration a rumor was started that the nihilists were endeavoring to destroy the city. The police reserves were called out, and considerable excitement prevailed. The police added to the panic by attacking the crowd which had gathered to witness the fire, and driving the people before them by blows and abuse. A number of persons were arrested, but it was found on investigation that there was not the slightest foundation for the report about the nihilists and that the only disorder was that created by the police. The Grand Duke Sergius, governor of the city, was personally present, observing the operations of the firemen, and also, it is said, directing the police in their violent course toward the people.

Arrested as a Spy.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 1.—An Austrian subject named Kondzielski, said to be a Galician Pole, has been arrested at Kieff, on the charge of being a spy. Kondzielski had been watched for some time by the Russian police, who did not care to arrest him too hastily, as his papers were apparently all right. He was observed, however, making sketches of the forts in the neighborhood, and on being arrested, papers were found in his baggage, showing him to be a spy in the interest of the Austrian government. As Kondzielski is a foreign subject, he will have a formal trial on the charge of espionage, and if convicted will be sent to Siberia.

Small Sized Riot in Berlin.

BERLIN, June 1.—A socialist writer named Pens, who was sentenced to six months' imprisonment, was taken to the jail at Ploetzensee yesterday. A crowd of 400 socialists accompanied the prisoner and the officers conducting him, and threatened to rescue Pens. The police finally ordered the mob to disperse. No attention was paid, and a charge was made by the police with drawn swords. After the rioters saw several of their number cut down, they scattered. The officers then proceeded to the jail, when they were again beset by a crowd. Another fight occurred, but the prisoner was landed in jail.

A Sentry's Act.

BERLIN, June 1.—During the funeral of Max Von Forckenbeck yesterday many persons from the crowd climbed upon the railings of the drill ground. The sentry of the Emperor Alexander regiment, without a word of warning, thrust his bayonet through the arm of one of the crowd. The policemen at once ordered away all persons standing near the railings and arrested one man who joined the outcry against the sentry.

Killed by His Son.

LONDON, June 1.—Mr. G. F. Greatrex, a wealthy citizen of Leamington, was shot and killed yesterday by his son who declared that he killed his father because his allowance of £1,000 a year was too small. The son is forty years old and the father was eighty. Two shots were fired. The tragedy occurred in the street in the presence of many people.

Left Their Work and Ran.

LONDON, June 1.—A policeman noticed some men acting in a suspicious way yesterday near the railway station at London fields, in Northwest London. On his approach, they ran and the officer found on the spot four dynamite cartridges. The police think the men were anarchists and intended to blow up the railway station.

Italy Wants a War.

PARIS, June 1.—Simon Lockroy writes that the king and court party of Italy are in favor of war and that the king will endeavor to provoke a war between Germany and France in order to divert Italy's attention from domestic financial difficulties. These assertions have caused a sensation.

Perished in a Fire.

VIENNA, June 1.—The mill houses in Gyergyo, in Transylvania, burned down yesterday afternoon. Many of the employes perished in the flames.

Depot Burned.

PARIS, June 1.—The omnibus depot on the boulevard Bourdon was destroyed yesterday. The forage, stores and several houses were burned.

Six Persons Drowned.

PARIS, June 1.—A boat capsized in the River Maine, near Angers, yesterday, and six persons were drowned.

Blew His Brains Out.

SPENCER, Ind., June 1.—Word has been received of the suicide of Farrell Long, near Newark, in Greene county. His mind was unbalanced, the result of brooding over the death of a brother, and going into a field near his home he blew out his brains with a shotgun.

A Conductor's Misfortune.

CARTERSBURG, Ind., June 1.—As the local freight reached this place yesterday Conductor Frank Stice made a misstep from the moving train, and in the fall his left arm was broken at the elbow joint and he received other injuries. He will be disabled for some time.

FLLOODS IN INDIANA.

Great Destruction Done at a Number of Places in the State.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 1.—The city was visited by another terrible rainstorm at 1 o'clock yesterday morning and for three hours the rain poured down in torrents, while the heavens were continuously lighted up by incessant flashes of lightning. As a result of the rainfall the northeastern portion of the city has been under from two to four feet of water ever since, twenty-five bridges and culverts are washed away and many miles of streets washed out and ruined.

In Jackson park yesterday nearly all the houses were standing in water, and in many the water was waist deep, while the furniture was floating about the rooms. White river is out of its banks, and the bridges over Fall creek are in imminent danger of being carried away. Carl Weaver, a seven-year-old boy, was drowned in Fall creek yesterday, this being the only accident to life so far reported.

At Wabash.

WABASH, Ind., June 1.—For the past five weeks it has rained every day, with but a single exception, in this locality. There are not, all told, over a thousand acres of corn planted in Wabash county, and farmers are totally discouraged. Monday night the heaviest storm of the season visited this section, and all streams are out of their banks. The Wabash river, east of the city, is covering the bottoms. Two washouts, one a mile south of the Wabash, thirty feet wide, and the other at Summitville, twenty feet wide, are delaying trains on the Michigan division of the Big Four. Two culverts at West Point and Independence are gone on the Wabash, delaying all trains. Telegraph lines generally are down.

At Brazil.

BRAZIL, Ind., June 1.—A terrific storm, resembling a tornado, visited this city about 12 o'clock Monday night. It struck the western portion of the city and did much damage. Small out-buildings, weak stables, chimneys, fences, etc., were blown down. In one instance a stable was lifted from its foundation and wrecked, while the horse inside escaped uninjured, and was left standing in the street. In the Chicago and Indiana Coal railroad yards the storm caused considerable loss. Several cars were blown from the track and up-ended. W. L. Maine's circus was being loaded at the time, and several workmen narrowly escaped injury.

At Portland.

PORTLAND, Ind., June 1.—Monday night's terrific rain has sent the Salamon river and its tributaries booming. In consequence, a good portion of this city is flooded. Meridian street is a rushing stream, and stores fronting on this street have their floors covered with water from a depth of six inches to two feet. A number of families in the flooded district have been compelled to vacate or take up their lodgings in the upper stories. The same state of affairs exists all over the county, and scores of farms are a sheet of water. The rainfall was so heavy that what little corn there was planted has been washed out by the roots.

Horses Struck by Lightning.

ENGLISH, Ind., June 1.—Lightning struck the barn belonging to Thomas Adkins, near here, and two horses were killed. The electric current traveled in a zigzag manner from the roof down a post and along a beam to the manger, and along this to the first horse; thence from the animal's hind quarters to the other horse. The first horse was burned along the spine, and the second on the hind leg. The horses had just returned from a hard drive, and in their overheated condition attracted the electricity.

Wilkinson Submerged.

WILKINSON, Ind., June 1.—The greater part of Wilkinson was submerged Monday at 12 o'clock. The water fell in torrents for about four hours. The rainfall was the heaviest since May 12, 1886, at the time of the tornado, at which time the town was a complete wreck. The bridges are all out. Not more than half the corn crop is planted.

Flood at Marion.

MARION, Ind., June 1.—The Mississinewa and its tributaries are out of banks. A half hundred families in Johnston, a river suburb, are forced to move out or into second floors. An iron bridge over Buck creek, near Jonesboro, is a wreck. Great damage has been caused to corn, and wheat is badly cut.

TRAIN WRECKED.

A Washout Causes a Serious Railroad Wreck Near Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 1.—Train No. 7 on the Lake Erie and Western railroad, plunged into a washout at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and the engine and entire train were ditched, the engine going over on one side of the track and the coaches on the other. The accident occurred upon a high piece of grade, and the washout must have been caused by a waterspout, as the track was never known to be under water before.

A large number of persons were injured, but the following were most seriously hurt.

J. F. Bard, of Kokomo, injured about the chest, hand cut and bruised.

T. W. Griffin, engineer, of Peru, head cut and ankle broken.

Mrs. Ella Crampton, of Indianapolis, bruised about the side and hips.

Alexander Manker, of Cincinnati, hurt on the head and body bruised.

As soon as the engineer could extricate himself from the wreck he ran back and signaled the Panhandle express, which follows the Lake Erie and Western train and was due in about five minutes. He succeeded in stopping the train, and thus prevented another accident.

Not Yet Decided.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 1.—The Louisiana senatorial contest has not yet been decided. The vote on joint ballot yesterday was as follows: Jones, 89; Adams, 26; Gibson, 24; Caffery, 17; Blanchard, 11; Bozgram, 4; Mahoney, 1; Murphy Foster, 1.
